UNICEF

More than three-fourths of the world's 1.2 billion children live in the developing nations. UNICEF aid helps protect these children from malnutrition and disease and prepares them for future citizenship.

UNICEF has provided for the training of more than 430,000 pediatricians, nurses, midwives, child-care workers, community leaders, nutritionists, sanitation workers, school teachers and other personnel serving children.

The United Nations Children's Fund is well-known for its life-saving activities in the fields of child nutrition, mother-and-baby care, control of epidemic childhood diseases, and disaster relief. But it is not enough to protect children from disease or disaster; they must also be protected from ignorance. So about thirty percent of UNICEF's resources go into the fields of education and vocational training. Every child needs the right kind of schooling, so that he can grow up to become a productive adult, able to make constructive contributions to the world's progress. Help UNICEF help children help the world!
